Chicago Hoodlum Death Wrote End For Antioch Housing Project Scheme

Gangland Bullets End Plan To Build Stores or Homes In Antioch Area

Twin pistol blasts and the roar of a double barreled shotgun in Chicago Saturday night ended the questionable proposal of Chicago underworld members to construct homes and build stores in Antioch.

Victim of the cold-blooded killing was Frank (Marlote) Diamond, 61-year-old former bodyguard for scarface Al Capone, who only last Thursday had announced: "Me and Cherry Nose were going into a 'legitimate deal.' We were going to build houses and stores in Cook County and up in Lake County—around Wheeling, Wauconda, and Antioch."

Cherry Nose—Charles (Cherry Nose) Gloe, his partner in the housing deal and a part time resident at Lake Shangri-La in Kenosha county just over the state line from Antioch, had been himself the victim of assassins' bullets just three nights earlier.

Beer War Vet
A veteran of the Fox Lake beer war murders of 1930, Cherry Nose had five bullets pumped into him when he tried to get into his flashy car in Chicago Wednesday night of last week.

Frank Diamond revealed that he and his pal, Gloe, were going into business in the Antioch area when Chicago detectives picked him up for questioning in Gloe's death.

Saturday night Diamond came to his end according to gangland prescription as he opened the garage doors at his Chicago home and stroled back toward his parked car.

As his 2-year-old son, Frank Jr., watched in horror, Diamond reeled from a shotgun blast which caught (continued on page 12)

The Antioch Chapter 735, Women of the Moose, held their business meeting Aug. 19, at the Moose lodge. The Chapter balloted favorably on two candidates, Mrs. Joseph Sterbenz and Mrs. Donald Gaa, both sponsored by Senior Regent Mrs. F. J. Kennedy, Jr.

The executive officers decided to establish a Moose-ology Club, under the direction of Junior Regent, Mrs. N. Jung, for the new members to help familiarize them with Chapter routine. The Chapter is sending three delegates, Senior and Junior Regents, and Recorder, Mrs. F. J. Kennedy, Sr., to the State Moose convention, Sept. 23-26 at Moline.

These officers will attend meetings at the convention and report at one of the Chapter meetings in October. Tentative plans are being made for a repeat trip to Mooseheart in October since several of the women who went last year found the tour so interesting. This would make it possible for the many new members and co-workers who were unable to go last year, to actually see the advantages and benefits the Moose children have at the Child City.

Junior Graduate Regent Mrs. W. Horton presented to her officers, escorts and chairmen of 1953-54, oversharps pencils stamped with the Women of the Moose emblem and year in which the co-worker served. The Loyol Order of the Moose No. 525 has extended an invitation to the Chapter to attend a travelog presented by Mr. Spiering covering a part of his world-wide tour on Wednesday, September 8, after the men's meeting.

Co-workers Mesdames Wm. Johnson, L. Roblin and B. Osborn joined in the monthly Birthday march. Reports were read by Publicity, Mooseheart, Alumni, Library, Hospital and Ritual chairmen. Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. Horton, Mooseheart Alumni chairman, and her committee.

No Free Rides

A short time ago a great new railroad passenger terminal was completed in New Orleans. At a banquet tendered the terminal's board, the city's Mayor Morrison made this significant point: "The City of New Orleans has not and will not pay one cent for the construction of the Union Terminal with its tracks and facilities—nor will it contribute to the operation thereof. This cost is borne entirely by the railroads, either from their own capital funds or bond proceeds, backed up by the full faith and credit of the eight railroads using the terminal.

"This is different in the case of the Airlines in our metropolitan area. The taxpayers have paid the full cost for the construction of our municipal airport and its terminal.

"It is to the credit of the railroad industry that they stand practically alone as the one mode of transportation that 'pays its way,' without subsidy, and without special privilege.

"In America the bulwark of the free enterprise system, this is ever so important."

By inference, Mayor Morrison pointed to a very important problem. Certainly it is high time that steps be taken to assure that any commercial transportation agency which uses publicly-bought facilities pay a fair price for that privilege. Transportation is an intensely competitive enterprise today, and it is not in the public interest that any of the competitors be either penalized or favored.

A Phony Argument

One allegedly potent argument against the President's decision to have the Atomic Energy Commission contract with a group of private electric companies for large quantities of needed power is that the power could be bought much more cheaply from TVA.

Senator Goldwater of Arizona answered this succinctly in a speech in which he said: "Any claim to saving by purchase from TVA is fictitious at best. If TVA paid interest on money it obtains from the Treasury, and taxes—local, State, and Federal—equivalent to those paid by private industry, there would be no saving. I am sure that no one who has had dealings with Government is naive enough to think that, all things being equal, a governmental agency could operate a business as efficiently as private enterprise."

In any government-operated commercial business, purely political considerations inevitably influence policy—and the bigger the government business concerned, the more politics is apt to enter into the operation. That in itself makes for waste and inefficiency, no matter how able the engineers and other technical personnel may be.

Elsewhere in his talk Senator Goldwater pointed out that electricity is the cheapest thing the consumer buys. Then he made this memorable statement: "I cannot forget . . . that if the government controlled power, it would have an iron grip on industry and even on our domestic life. That is one of the things I do not want the government to have."

Why Men Take Risks

At best, hunting for oil is a risky operation. The majority of wildcat wells turn out dry and useless, and the cost of drilling is very high these days.

Now oil companies are engaged in the job of searching for oil beneath the sea. This involves new risks and new hazards.

For example, in a typical deep water operation a drilling platform must be constructed in 65 feet of water 20 miles out at sea. It must be able to withstand 28-foot hurricane waves and 150-miles-an-hour winds. It must be capable of housing 40 men, and the company must be ready to quickly evacuate them when storm warnings are issued. Before drilling starts, the cost of the platform and the necessary equipment may run to $1,000,000.

But that doesn't give the company assurance that oil will be found—not by a long shot. Out of 71 such wells that have been drilled off Louisiana, only 27 turned out to be producers. It was even worse off Texas—16 wells have been drilled, and only one contained oil. And this one's production was so small that it has to be abandoned.

Why do people take these risks, either on land or beneath the sea? One reason is that competition is so keen that no company that plans to survive and progress can afford to pass up a promising area. And another is that the hope of profit drives the oilmen on.

The people can spend their own money . . . in their own way for what they want much better than the government can spend it for them.—Treasury Secretary George Humphrey.

Grass Roots Opinion

COLFAX, CALIF., RECORD: "There are many . . . who constantly resolve to improve their minds by reading intelligently written books, in the hope that they will become better equipped to understand the many issues that crowd upon them as they try to keep pace with this modern world. . . . The Bible has long been recognized as pre-eminent in the field of . . . improving human beings. It might be a good idea, then, for all of us to give a little more diligent study to the great truths that are set out in the Book of Books."

MOUND, MINN., MINNETONKA PILOT: "The United States, down to the tiniest hamlet . . . is in the process of finding itself astride a gigantic threshold—one foot firmly planted in the old system of free enterprise and the other about to sink in the mire of socialism."

VERSAILLES, KY., WOODFORD SUN: "As we read on and on about union demands for 'fringe' benefits, paid vacations, shorter work weeks, guaranteed annual wages—in short, more and more for less and less—it is downright refreshing to be reassured now and then that the rank and file of American workers are truly interested in their jobs."

TALLASSEE, ALA., TRIBUNE: "There's one thing for sure, we are well versed in the 'give and take' field—take from the taxpayers and give to the world."

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

A piece of a loaf beats no loaf, and she looks like that is what we may get—a piece of a loaf. This "Prop" law on its journey through congress is being cluttered up with arithmetic and fractions that seem to sorta be over the heads of a considerable portion of our wise men there in this new congress. You don't need any arithmetic or slide rule to figure the "prop" idea is a phoney. It got on the law books because the Consumers of the land said nary a word "against" as the few who were to benefit put over the idea with a congress that thought it heard votes amongst the clatter.

A Consumers League is 'way over-due—an uprising coming to the aid of this Mr. Agriculture Benson, with further relief—much further—from confusing formulas, fractions and decimal points. He has made a dent in the problem—for that the lad gets my 3 cheers.

To give congress the benefit of the doubt those boys act maybe a little odd at times by having too many fires to tend. Our U. S. A. has gotten so far from home—so many things cookin' so far beyond our shores—that jumpiness develops. A good rest would be good—that is what the doctor prescribes for jitters. And furthermore the good people of foreign lands would like us much better if we eased up a bit on our barging in on every cock-fight and local squabble.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

If the car is not clear of the road, use the right-hand door to get in and out and have someone flag traffic while you make necessary repairs. Be sure other passengers stay off the highway. Keep a usable flashlight in the car to warn approaching motorists at night.

In Memoriam
PEARL M. SPIZIRI
August 30, 1953
Deep in my heart a memory is kept of the one I love and will never forget. My grief cannot find comfort, my wounds cannot be healed until we are together again. Precious darling wife, you are always with me. Please dear God hold Your loving arms about her, of one whose life was like pure gold.
Broken Hearted Husband.

Our prayers should be for blessings in general, for God knows best what is good for us. —Socrates

SHOW COURTESY TO PEDESTRIANS

Give pedestrians the same consideration that you would expect if you were walking. Allow those caught in mid-street to reach the far curb when the light changes. If you turn right or left at the light be careful and wait until the pedestrians crossing in the green signal are clear of your path. You should always remember that pedestrians have the right-of-way at intersections where there is no traffic signal or officer.

Most Powerful Atom Smasher At Brookhaven

NEW YORK—The most powerful atom smashing force to be created and controlled by man is challenging scientists now designing the 2500 ton steel magnet for Brookhaven National Laboratory's new synchrotron on Long Island. The challenge lies in the fact that the new machine will accelerate atomic particles to a force about three times greater than the most powerful now in existence, thus presenting new problems to be solved before costly installations are made.

Although the estimate of 2500 tons of steel for the magnet is probably conservative, it will not rank with the heaviest (10,000 tons) now used in atom smashing. This is because increased knowledge gained in making previous atom smashers has made possible a "streamlined design."

The big synchrotron is to be in the shape of a circle, with a diameter more than twice the length of a football field. In simple terms, atomic particles will be injected at high speed into a stainless steel tubular "track" and whirled around it progressively faster until they reach nearly the speed of light. The particles will continue to gain in force until they attain 25 billion electron volts, when they will be "shot" at a target of atoms, blasting them into their component parts for study.

The purpose of the steel magnet is to counteract centrifugal force, keeping the particles from hitting the sides of the tubular track and losing energy.

Insulating Sphere A Unique Problem

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Insulating the huge sphere to be used by the Atomic Energy Commission and General Electric Company for testing an atomic submarine engine, presented some unique problems.

The sphere, 28 times larger than any other previously built, is 225 feet in diameter and had a content of 5 1/2 million cubic feet. It is designed to minimize escape of fissionable material during the atomic engine tests near Schenectady, N. Y.

In effect, the sphere is the largest "thermos bottle" ever built. It is airtight and insulated with "Formglas," a cellular glass material. More than 138,000 square feet of this insulation—in blocks two inches thick, 12 inches wide and 18 inches long—were applied to the steel walls of the giant sphere.

One reason the sphere had to be insulated was the need for maintaining a constant barometric pressure inside. Any sudden change in interior pressure, caused by fluctuation of outdoor temperature, could exert hazardous stresses on the steel sphere, which is big enough to house an 18-story building.

Special scaffolding, supported by permanent welded steel lugs on the sphere wall, was used to install the insulation.

Same Name Situation Often Embarrassing

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—When two people in the same city have the same name, it often leads to confusion.

Garden Young phoned Mayor Jimmie Hicks to confirm a date for the mayor to baby-sit for the March of Dimes.

Young asked the voice on the other end of the line to appear on a radio program "while your services are being auctioned."

"My services?" questioned the voice.

"Yes, Your services as a baby-sitter which you donated to the March of Dimes."

"A baby-sitter?"

"Isn't this Mayor Jimmie Hicks?"

"No," replied the voice. "This is Police Chief Jimmie Hicks!"

Mormons Give Lincoln Statue to Illinois

PETERSBURG, Ill.—A 9-foot bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln was presented to the State of Illinois recently by the National Society of the Sons of Utah Pioneers, whose Mormon ancestors were driven from Illinois more than a century ago.

The ceremony took place in New Salem State Park, the recreated log-cabin village where Lincoln spent his youth before making his home in Springfield.

Let's of Lettuce

NEW YORK—Grocer Harry Hack recently appealed for the return of $995 worth of "lettuce" a customer accidentally took from his store.

The lettuce was of the crisp, green dollar bill variety and Hack said that one of the checkers in his supermarket had put a bag containing the bills in with someone's groceries.

He offered a reward for return of the money—one complete grocery order, free.

You get a 3-way bonus in the car that's soaring to new success

WHAT has happened in the automobile business this year is something that you should take to heart—as a personal benefit to yourself, and as a sure way to pick a winner.

It is simply this: Buick has moved into the charmed circle of America's three top sales leaders—a circle once dominated only by the so-called "low-price three."

In plainer words—Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these so-called "low-price three." And this has come about because of Buick's advanced year-ahead styling, great V8 power, big-car room and comfort—all for prices starting right close to the lowest. So you reap a worth-while 3-way benefit.

1. Do get the look of tomorrow—today

In Buick today you get the modern styling other cars will reach in the future. For here you get true year-ahead beauty—long, low glamor lines, sports-car grace, and that spectacular new panoramic windshield that most other cars won't have till 1955.

2. Get the most advanced V8 power

The tremendous sales volume that has brought Buick into the leadership circle of the "Big Three" means that we can offer you a higher trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. That's the simple reason why we can make you a better deal right now.

3. You get more than 3000 dollars when you trade

With Buick so advanced in style this year it's a sure thing Buick will stay in style for years to come, as other cars catch up. So the new Buick you buy today brings you a higher resale price at trade-in time later. Drop in—see and drive this tomorrow-styled Buick—and get in on Buick's big 3-way bonus right now.

him in the back of the head, and then lurched downward as another blast tore into his stomach. As he fell two .38 caliber bullets ripped into the left side of his head.

Two days before his unexpected departure from mortal behavior, Diamond, who was born Frank Marilote, also told police that he and Glee had also spoken of "muscling in" on some of the building trade unions. He did not make clear whether the trade union deal also concerned Antioch.

"Cherry Nose came to me a little while back," the muscular giant of a building contractor told police. "He wanted me to go in with him in muscling in on some of the building trade unions."

Was on Parole

Police speculated that Glee intended relying on Diamond's rough appearance to help "impress" prospective clients.

Diamond, the would-be Antioch businessman, was also questioned by police previously in connection with the 1952 massacre of Anthony Baldino of Island Lake, Wauconda, business agent for the Chicago Teamster's Union, who was found bound, beaten, and shot to death in his car near Joliet.

Both Diamond, Glee, and two other former Capone gangsters were sent to prison in 1944 after being convicted of conspiracy for extorting more than $1,000,000 from the motion picture. They were paroled in 1947 after serving a third of a 10-year sentence.

A short time before his death Glee, reportedly the manager of the big gambling operations of the Capone gang, was questioned by Chicago police after the March gangland slaying of Paul (Needle Nose) Labriola and James Weinberg, whose bodies were found stuffed into the trunk of a car.

After Diamond's and Glee's murders brought to light their alleged plans to launch operations in the Antioch area, the proposed housing project and new stores became the subject of widespread conversation in the community.

PVT. GLENN J. FLOOD

Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.—Pvt. Glenn J. Flood, son of Mrs. Phila Flood, RR 1, Bristol, Wis., has recently completed basic infantry training at Fort Leonard Wood with a unit of the 8th Armored Division.

After induction into the Army at his home station, Pvt. Flood processed through the 5045th ASU Reception Station at Fort Leonard Wood, where he received his initial Army clothing, and took the basic qualification and aptitude tests to determine his assignment in the Army after completion of basic training.

In the first eight weeks, he is being taught the basic elements of military life, how to defend himself individually and with a unit, how to live with other soldiers, basic infantry techniques, and other fundamental facts important to his success in the military service.

Upon completion of the eight-week infantry training cycle here with the famed "Super Sixth," he will receive a leave before beginning eight weeks of advance basic training, either at Fort Leonard Wood or another training installation.

martyr over this to help keep it from happening to other people."

One of Dalgaard's meat cutters, who earns $115 per week for a five days of work told newsmen: "We just don't want a union here. We're all making good money and everyone here is satisfied."

A clerk told a reporter that no one had ever asked the employees how they felt about joining the union—"They only talked to Mr. Dalgaard, not us."

A woman cashier commented on the turn of events: "Isn't it terrible, what they are making us do!" Prior to the signing of the contract Dalgaard said another agent for the retail clerk's union, Ed Jerko of Chicago, "called me up and threatened my life. He told me he would put me out of business and out of the picture unless I joined his clerk's union. 'If you don't, we'll set up a picket line and help close you up,' Dalgaard said Jerko told him."

The store owner said that the well-known "happy family" atmosphere that prevails in his two stores will be brought to an end by the union edict, because members of different departments will no longer be able to help one another when different groups of employees are busy.
